HIGHLIGHTS

Ferret Town

Fri. Oct. 9 | 10:30pm

The black-footed ferret was thought to be extinct when a small population was discovered near Meeteetse, Wyoming, in 1981, setting off an urgent race to recover the species from only 18 animals. This film follows the ongoing efforts of many dedicated individuals to return this endangered species to the wild.

Wyoming Chronicle

Fri. Oct. 9, 16, 23 & 30 | 8pm

Continue exploring Wyoming with the new season of our weekly show hosted by Steve Peck. This month starts off with an episode featuring Fort Phil Kearny and the pivotal battle that occurred 160 years ago. An expanded historic site near Sheridan opened this year, telling a bigger, fuller story.

I Am Only a Craftsman

Mon. Oct. 19 | 8pm

Sat. Oct. 24 | 9pm

From Wyoming to Japan explore how Sheridan-Style leather carving became a bridge between cultures. This documentary follows master carver James F. Jackson and Japanese leather artist Taka Otsuka on a journey through the leatherworking world, exploring the connections forged through a shared dedication to craftsmanship.

Before Wyoming: The West in 1776

Mon. Oct. 19 | 9:30pm

This film expands the story of 1776 beyond the East, revealing the overlooked history of the Northern Rockies and Great Plains. It explores thriving Indigenous nations, early European influence, and the changing world of the West through historians, Native voices, artifacts, and the perspectives of young people today.

Yellowstone Cougar Project

Mon. Oct. 26 | 9pm

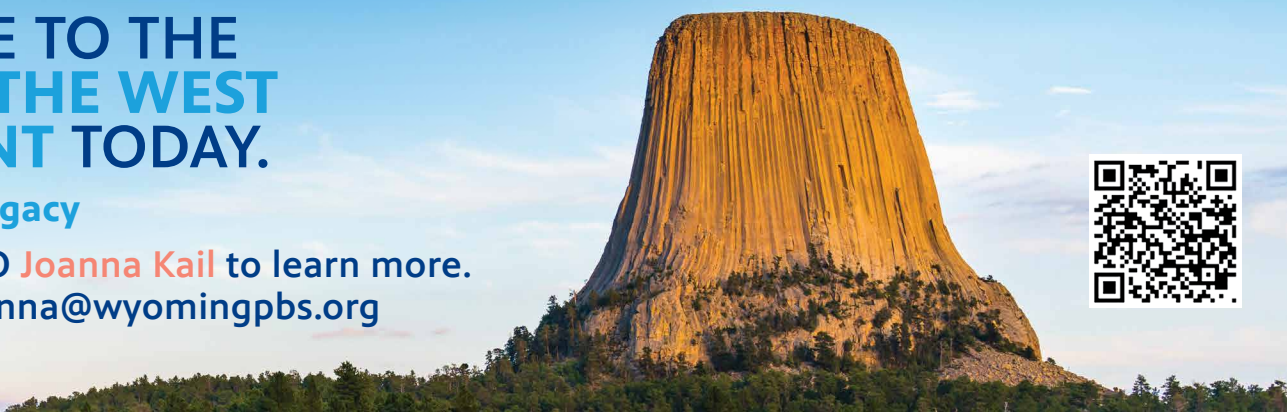

Get a glimpse into the hidden world of cougars—stealthy predators vital to Yellowstone National Park's ecosystem. See the science, fieldwork, and passion driving the Yellowstone Cougar Project, and meet individual cougars, each with a unique story of survival and resilience, set against Yellowstone's majestic landscapes.
