

Interviews

By: Kieran S.

Kieran: My name is Kieran. Have you ever wanted to talk to a historical figure but couldn't because they aren't alive anymore? Well, I have! That's why I made a Time Machine.

Come with me to interview these historical figures in their prime. First, we'll be talking to Abraham Lincoln, then George Washington, and end with Donald Trump. Ok let's go. Welcome to the club Abraham Lincoln. It is a pleasure talking to you, I mean being a guy like yourself. Do you think you can inspire people to do the right thing in life?

Abe: Yes, I think I can set a good standard for people to follow for years to come after the grave.

Kieran: Ok cool, cool next question is how do you feel about being elected as president?

Abe: I mean it's a pleasure being able to lead this country to success.

Kieran: Before I leave is it ok if I get a photo?

Abe: Yes, just get my good side.

Kieran: Ok I wish we could have more time, but that's all the time we have today. On to the next historical figure. Ok where are we? Well, I see an apple tree and a kid oh and an adult, Hi George Washington. It's a pleasure seeing you in person.

Manly figure: Oh, I'm not George, why that would be my son over at the apple tree.

Kieran: Oh, the old machine must be broken. Hi friend, I have a few questions for you.

George: Ok I like answering questions!

Kieran: Ok first what do you want to do when you grow up?

George: I want to save people in need.

Kieran: Second what do you think of this world?

George: I think it's a wonderful place but with some downsides like not being able to get the food you need.

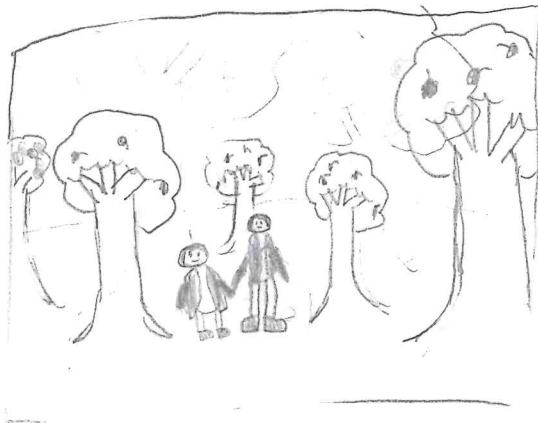

Kieran: Ok final question what do you think this world will turn out to be?

George: It will be a good world with flowers and happiness everywhere.

Kieran: Ok last thing before I leave can I get a photo?

George: Yes!

Kieran: Here we go, say America!

Kieran: Ok if first was Abraham Lincoln, then George Washington, then we must be at Donald Trump. Hi, are you Donald Trump?

Trump: Yes! I am Donald Trump.

Kieran: I have three questions for you.

Trump: Ok bring them on!

Kieran: Ok first what is your vision for America?

Trump: My vision is to make it a place worth living.

Kieran: Ok, ok second if there was a war tomorrow how convenient would you be in leading then to war?

Trump: I would say a 13!

Kieran: Ok confident, and finally will you run for president again?

Trump: Yes, I think that's a great idea.

Kieran: And do you mind if I get a photo?

Trump: Not at all.

Kieran: And that brings us back to 2026. See you in the next 250 years!
