MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

Stay Tuned

By Mare Mazur, President and General Manager, Vegas PBS

When I arrived at Vegas PBS, the Strip was still shut down, and we were all finding our way out of COVID.

It was an odd time to start a new job in a new city. There were people I worked with for months before meeting them in person. Las Vegas was nothing like the city I had come to know over the years.

But even then, I could see what made this community special.

Now, as I write my final column for this magazine, I have been trying to figure out how to sum up nearly six remarkable years without sounding as though someone should start dimming the lights and playing me off stage.

I finally decided there is really only one thing I need to say.

Thank you.

Thank you to our viewers, members, donors, volunteers, board members, community partners, educators, parents, families and friends. Thank you for your notes when we get something right, and even better, your letters when we miss our mark. Thank you for supporting a station that belongs not to one person, one administration, or one moment in time, but to the people it serves.

That support has never mattered more than it did this past year.

The loss of federal funding created what could have been the most challenging financial year in the history of Vegas PBS. But in the middle of that uncertainty, Southern Nevada showed up.

At a time when public media was being tested nationally, this community responded locally.

That is something I will never forget.

I am equally thankful for the remarkable people who come to work at Vegas PBS every day. Public media people have a gift for making the impossible look routine, usually with too little time and too little money. Somehow, they turn all of that into television programs, digital content, educational resources, community events, family services, new technology and ideas that would challenge organizations many times our size.

It has been one of the great privileges of my career to work beside them.

While I'm retiring from Vegas PBS, my husband and I are not leaving the place we've come to love. Somewhere along the way, Las Vegas became home.

We will remain part of this community, part of the Vegas PBS family and supporters of a station that has meant so much to both of us.

We have been and will remain exactly what public television has always depended on: Viewers Like You. Thank You.

With appreciation, Mare

THANK YOU!

7 Performing Arts Tune in for a month full of exciting performances.

8 Drama This month marks the last chapter of Grantchester.

MUSIC DISCOVERY

Maybe the first music that felt like your own was a mixtape you recorded right off the radio. Or an mp3 you downloaded and loaded onto an iPod. Whatever it was, finding and listening to new music is an exhilarating experience. If you feel like your playlist is getting a bit stale, here are a few ways to discover your next favorite jam.

Vegas PBS

For over 50 years, historic concerts and performances have been preserved and celebrated on public broadcasting. Just look at Austin City Limits, which you can binge with our Passport member benefit.

You can find music programs year round on Vegas PBS, but this August features exquisite selections. Some Don't Miss Picks through the month include:

For country music lovers: Dolly Parton: Here I Am, Saturday, August 8 at 8 p.m.

For rock fans: Billy Joel: The 100th: Live at Madison Square Garden, Monday, August 10 at 8 p.m.

For those who enjoy Mexican ranchera or banda: Vicente Fernandez: Un Azteca en el Azteca, Wednesday, August 12 at 9 p.m.

Classical fans, rejoice!: Great Performances: Vienna Philharmonic Summer Night Concert 2026, Friday, August 28 at 9 p.m.

Check out the full selection in the Performing Arts section on the next page.

LIVE Music

From Skye Canyon to Cadence, there are many great venues to enjoy live music in the Las Vegas Valley. There are, of course, the stadiums and arenas of the Strip, but high ticket prices and exorbitant fees have made some folks decide to take their listening ears elsewhere.

Most indie music venues are centered in Downtown Las Vegas' East Fremont neighborhood and Arts District; places like Dustland, The Usual Place and Bizarre Bar. But Henderson has its own DIY spots like Eagle Aerie Hall and Grey Witch. If you live near a Station casino, chances are there's a lounge or showroom offering live music on a regular basis.

Physical Media

Streaming is definitely convenient, but has its drawbacks like anything else. (Sketchy internet service perhaps being the least among them.) Maybe that's why some people have decided to return to physical media like CDs, cassettes, and even vinyl.

11th Street Records, Zia Records, Record City, and Moondog Records offer huge selections of new and pre-owned media. While new pressings are often pricier, old vinyl and tapes are often more affordable and provide hidden or forgotten gems.

Radio

Power KCEP-FM 88.1 regularly features local artists and musicians on its talk shows and playlists. Nevada Public Radio (KNPR 88.9) has the music retrospective series "Sound Opinions" on Sundays at 6 p.m. and live music series "World Cafe" every day at 7 p.m. 🎧

Q&A

with Nevada Week host
Amber Renee Dixon

Nevada Week recently won an Emmy for reportage about how drought conditions have been pushing Nevada's own state mammal out of the region. How did it feel getting recognized for your work on this story?

“ I felt grateful. Our story was one of 11 nominees in the Environment/Science – News category. The video, which included desert bighorn sheep dangling from helicopters, was so compelling, and the subject matter explored not only the tangible impacts of drought but a unique relationship between conservation and hunting.”

On the topic of environmental coverage, an important deadline is looming for the Colorado River users this October. If states can't settle on an agreement, federal rationing guidelines will kick in. Who might be some of the people we might see and hear from on Nevada Week about that?

“ Southern Nevada Water Authority general manager, John Entsminger, is a frequent guest on Nevada Week. He also represents Nevada in the negotiations taking place between the seven states that use the Colorado River. Colby Pellegrino, also with the Southern Nevada Water Authority, is a Las Vegas native and provides perspective on how dramatically Lake Mead water levels have changed in her lifetime. From the Las Vegas Review-Journal, we enjoy having water reporter Alan Snel on the show. He follows not only Nevada's role in Colorado River water negotiations but also what the other states involved are saying, doing and thinking.”

Midterm elections are coming up, including a closely-watched gubernatorial race between Republican incumbent Joe Lombardo and Democratic challenger Aaron Ford. What do you think Nevadans are going to be considering on the way to the polls, and how do you plan to cover those issues?

“ I think Nevada voters will prioritize the cost of living (including housing) and education when they cast their ballots in the midterm elections. Governor Lombardo ran on a platform of wanting to be known as 'Nevada's Education Governor,' and we will explore what he's accomplished in this area during his tenure. We will also examine the current campaign promises of each candidate and compare their stated goals to how they've voted in the past on similar issues.”

The Nevada State Legislature returns in 2027. With a Democratic legislature and Republican governor, much of 2025's legislation was vetoed by the governor. Might there be increased partisanship or rifts between lawmakers when they head to Carson City?

“ There might be, and whoever wins the governor's race will play a part in that. If Governor Lombardo retains his seat and Democrats maintain a majority (but not a veto-proof supermajority) in the Assembly and Senate, bipartisanship will be necessary to get anything of significance done.”

Nevada Week recently launched a dedicated segment about brain health. Tell us a little about that.

“ According to the state, Nevada has one of the fastest growing populations of people over 65 living with Alzheimer's disease in the country. Tremendous research surrounding dementia diagnosis, treatment and prevention is taking place in the state and so our coverage is highlighting that while focusing on practical methods of prevention. I'm particularly proud of Nevada Week's role in educating our viewers about Alzheimer's disproportionate impact on women. In this next season of Nevada Week, we'll also be looking at what policies the state can implement to help people living with dementia and their caregivers.”

Why is a public affairs program like Nevada Week important to our community?

“ Where do I begin? Well, prior to Vegas PBS, I worked in commercial television news for more than ten years. The standard amount of time that television journalists get to tell the story that they've likely worked on all day is one minute and 30 seconds. It's nearly impossible to adequately cover any topic of substance in that amount of time. On Nevada Week, we've identified the most pressing issues the state is facing, and we find credible, expert voices to explain the numerous angles that often make up these issues. Nevada Week is 26 minutes long, and I think its slogan could very well be: If you want to feel smart, watch Nevada Week.”

Our Picks for August 25-31

American Masters: Mary Oliver: Saved by the Beauty of the World

Tuesday, August 25 at 9 p.m.

Celebrate the life and career of Pulitzer Prize-winning writer Mary Oliver. Shaped by a solitary childhood and rising literary fame, Oliver published more than 30 collections of poetry and essays on nature, beauty and love.

Great Performances: Vienna Philharmonic Summer Night Concert 2026

Friday, August 28 at 9 p.m.

Enjoy a night of musical works from French Romanticism to Impressionism. The beloved annual concert performed by Vienna Philharmonic takes place in Schönbrunn Palace Park and is conducted for the first time by Maestro Tugan Sokhiev.

The Downwinders & the Radioactive West

Sunday, August 2 at 1 p.m.

In the 1950s and '60s, the U.S. government conducted a series of nuclear tests in the Nevada desert. The resulting fallout would kick off a decades-long debate over cancer rates, the costs of patriotism and the responsibility of a nation to protect its citizens.

Magpie Murders on MASTERPIECE Marathon

Sunday, August 23, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Sunday, August 30 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

A mystery author dies under suspicious circumstances, with his last book seemingly unfinished. This leaves two mysteries: What happened to him? And how does his latest potboiler end? Magpie Murders revolves around the character Susan Ryeland, an editor who is given an unfinished manuscript of author Alan Conway's latest novel but has little idea it will change her life.

Binge this entire series in anticipation of the premiere of Marble Hall Murders on September 6.

World's Greatest Cruises: A Legendary Transatlantic Crossing

Saturday, August 29 at 9:30 a.m.

Host Lynn Elmhirst sails on British cruise line Cunard's flagship Queen Mary 2 on the legendary route between New York and Southampton, England, following in the wake of celebrities, royalty and VIPs in the golden era of ocean liners. It's an entire week at sea with no ports of call, instead immersed in quintessential British lifestyle: shipwide afternoon tea, pub lunches, Royal Mail, the biggest library and planetarium at sea and gala evenings. She meets the kennel master and visits some four-legged passengers in the only kennels at sea! In London, she drops into the only studio in the world still making globes by hand.
