

Moving Zoos

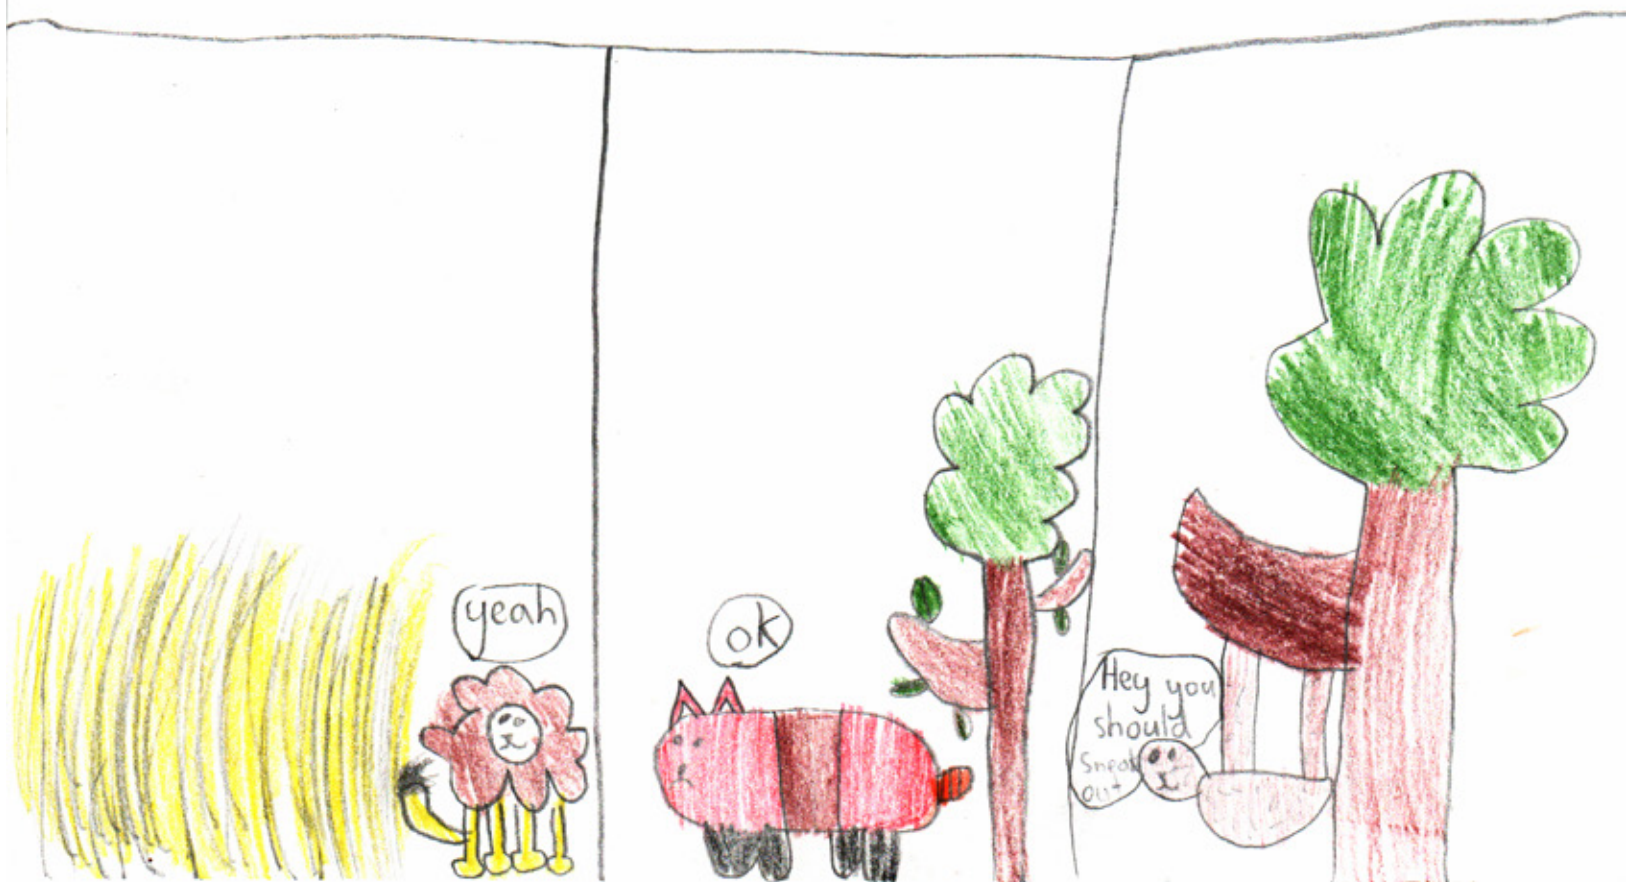

Written and Illustrated By: Emily Kuhlman

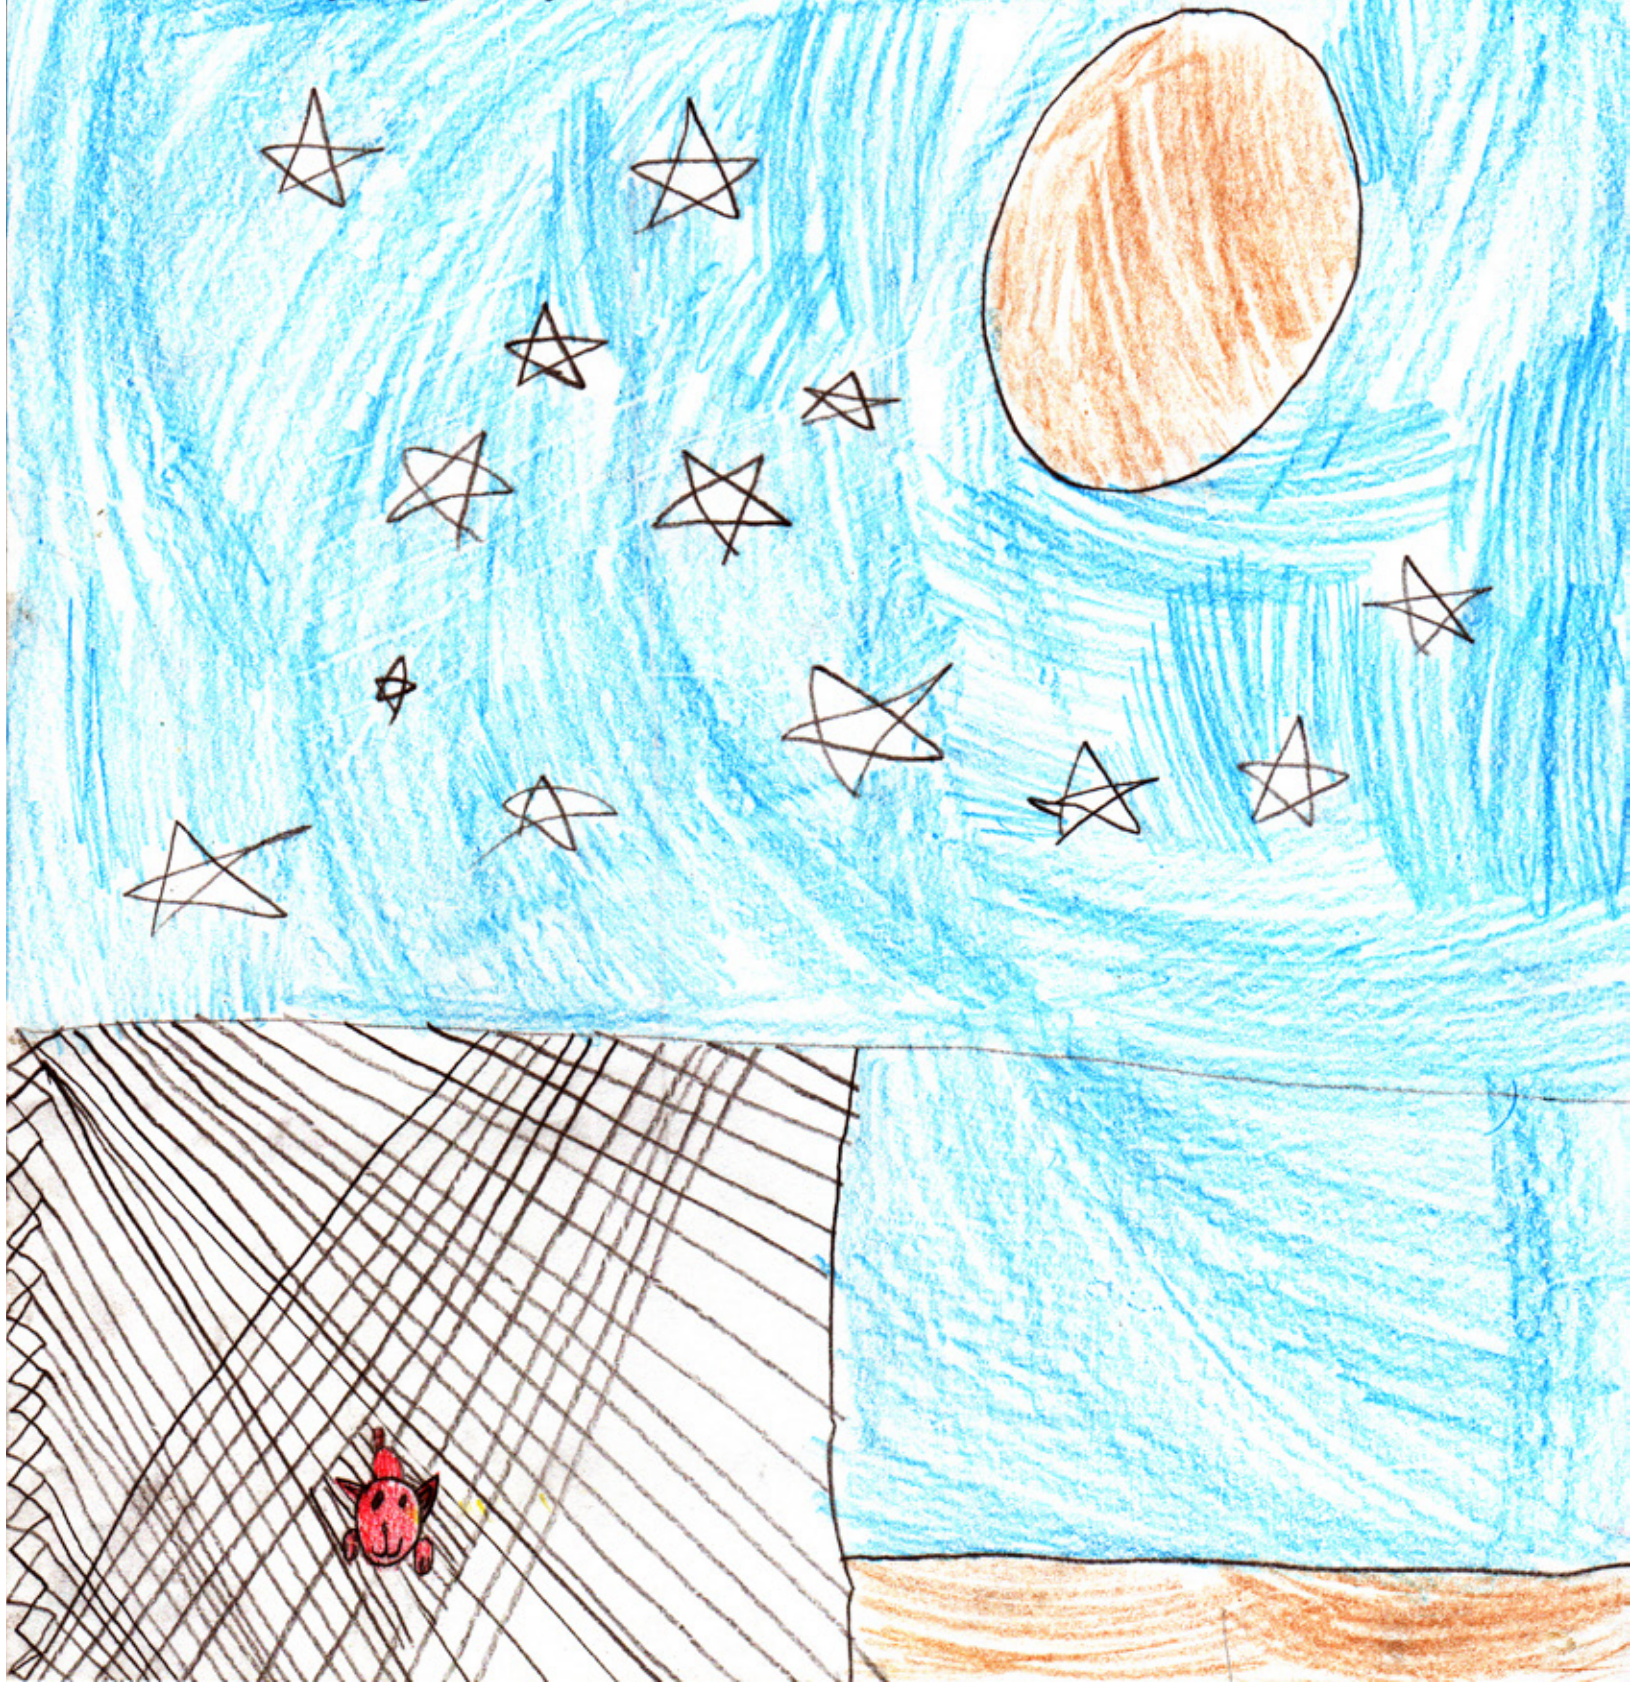

Once upon a time there was red panda named Emily. She had two friends, Brynn the lion and Piper the sloth. They were BFFs, they lived in a zoo together and had cages right next to each other. They loved it, then the zookeeper went by their cages and told them devastating news.

They were going to move some of the animals by going every other cage. That meant that Emily must move to the new zoo!!! They made a plan that Emily would not have to move and she would sneak out of the new zoo.

The next day they moved all the animals to the new zoo, after a while Emily decided that it was time to sneak out. She found her way back to her old zoo!!! She was so happy and there she lived until Brynn got very hurt.

So the zookeeper tried to help, but Brynn thought that the zookeeper was bad. So she kept on running away. Soon the zookeeper caught up to Brynn and saw that she had a splinter in her paw, so she called the vet and helped Brynn get better.

Moral -some people are just trying to help.
