Today, my dad invited me to go to the zoo! He's the zookeeper. We stopped to take a photo and get a balloon, then we went to see the new animals. We went to see the seal first. The seal's name was Sean. Sean balanced a blue ball on his nose, then dove underwater, did a flip, came back up, and caught it on his nose again! I clapped. Then, we went to the new baby lions next. Their names were Peanut and Leon. Leon played ball with Peanut. Leon's claws suddenly made the ball pop. Leon stumbled back, but soon ran back out, we walked on, and saw Zane the bear. She played with Pea, the other bear. She was wrestling Pea when the wrestle was done. We went to Rocky the Rhino. Rocky was big and clumsy, and sat on Benny, the other Rhino. Rocky made a sort of screech and ran away. We laughed, and went to Pistachio the monkey. Pistachio made a loud noise and swung from branch to branch. Another zookeeper sprayed water on them, and they all screamed. We giggled and got hot dogs for dinner. Soon it was time to leave. We got souvenirs before we left. We got a picture frame for our picture. I got a big teddy bear then we got a taxi when we got home.

THE ZOO

Whoa!

I got my pajamas on and went to bed.
and guess what I dreamed about? I dreamed about the zoo.
