

Pebbles' Special Surprise Party

By: Karly Dopita, Damar Elementary, 5th Grade

There were 5 penguins at the zoo. One of the penguins was named

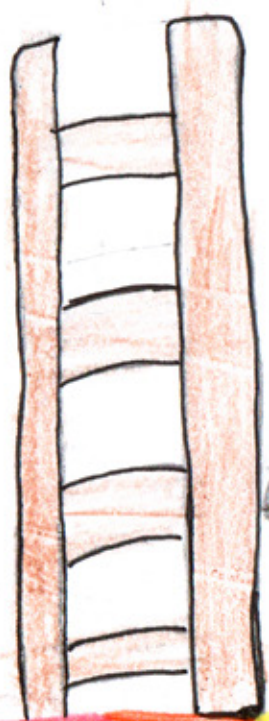

Pebbles and today was her birthday.

Happy 8th Birthday

All the other penguins wanted to surprise her with a party. So they all got up early in the morning and started setting up.

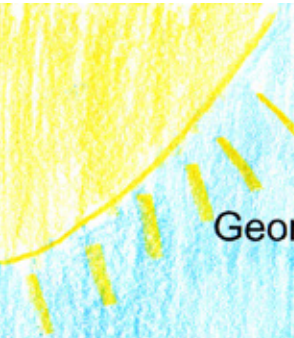

Violet was a penguin that made really good desserts, she was in charge of making the fish flavored cake.

George was very good at digging, he is going to dig a big hole underground so they could have the party there.

Timmy and Kayla were in charge of decorating. They all got to work.

George had finally finished digging. It took him a long time to dig the hole. Kayla and Timmy started decorating.

They had a disco ball, balloons, and more. Then, something happened.

"Oh no! The disco ball is broken!" said Kayla. "We need to get a new one," George said. "Where can we find one?" Timmy said. "I know where we can find one, the zookeeper's party room!" said Violet.

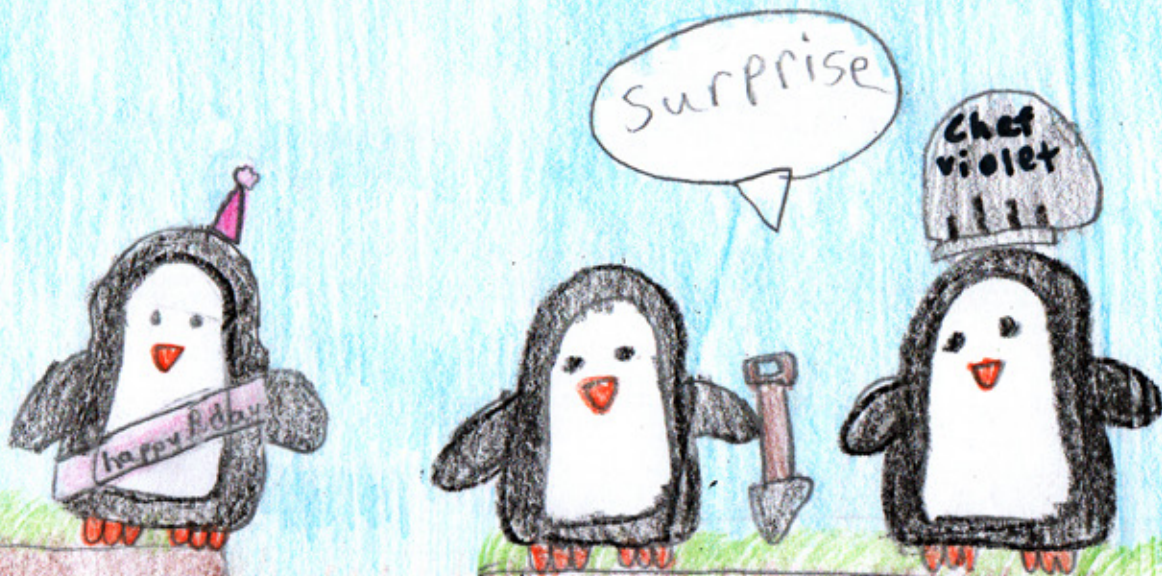

So George went to the zookeeper's party room and brought back an even bigger disco ball. "It's time to party!" said Violet.

The four penguins decided to leave a trail of Pebbles' favorite fish from the enclosure, to the party....

"SURPRISE!" said all four penguins as Pebbles walked in the room.

"This is so cool!" Pebbles said. "Who wants cake?" Violet said.

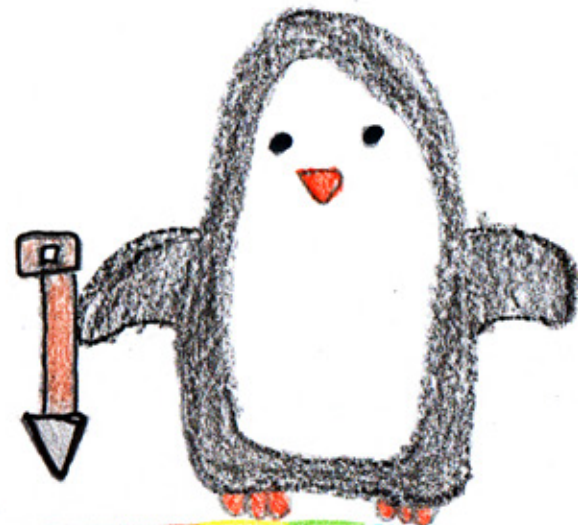

Violet sliced cake for every penguin, and saved the biggest slice for Pebbles.

They all danced and sang until they were too tired.

Then, it was time to open presents." I love it!" said Pebbles holding a vase full of flowers. "I know you love flowers," Kayla said. Pebbles got a cook book from Violet, a giant fish from Timmy, and a pink shovel from George.

Then the penguins heard footsteps. It was the zookeepers coming to check if the penguins were asleep. "Oh no" said Timmy in a quiet voice "shhh" said Kayla. "We found you!" the two zookeepers said.

All of the penguins were forced to go to bed and the party had to end.
