SEASON SIX PREMIERE

All Creatures Great and Small

Beginning Sunday, January 11 at 8PM/9MT

Repeats Mondays at 1AM/2MT

We return to Darrowby in May 1945 to find Skeldale House at sixes and sevens. As victory in Europe is declared, there is the promise of peace at last, but James is wishing for a greater sense of peace at the surgery as he juggles vet work with a busy family life and an exceptionally challenging Siegfried. Helen's enjoying time with young Jimmy and Rosie but has big changes afoot at Heston Grange to contend with. Tristan returns from several years at war and will have to re-adjust to life back home in Darrowby. Meanwhile, Mrs. Hall works hard to bring everybody back together and restore harmony at the surgery! We watch as our characters reconnect with each other and find their renewed purpose, as the world around them starts to breathe again and look to a brighter future.

Farewell to Barbara Harms KSPS PBS Master Control Operator

When you think back to your earliest days at KSPS PBS, what stands out most about how the station and the communities we serve have changed?

The station was very small, and we had a sense we were all in it together. Most of us were under 30. We were young and TV was relatively new, and it was fun. We did things on-air in our live Pledge drives that were silly; we didn't take ourselves too seriously. I am proud of how we built up the station. Little by little, it grew as we grew. Since I started here, we have become more technologically advanced, with more outreach into the community, more channels on-air, and produce fantastic local programs.

Who are the colleagues, mentors, or teams who most shaped your experience here, and what did you learn from them?

I have loved the people I have worked with and the mission. There has been a core group of about a dozen people I have worked with the past 40 plus years. It has been a real privilege to work with such great people for so long. Most of them are retired now, there are just a few of us left. I was fortunate to work under Lynn Veltrie, who was Operations Supervisor for almost my entire career. He set a high standard of excellence and demanded a level of competence and commitment that I have striven to live up to. He was always looking for the better way to do things. Jim Zimmer, our Production Manager has always been someone I look up to. He also has high standards of excellence, and his productions are masterworks.

How has working at KSPS PBS shaped the way you see your community or the world more broadly?

I have traveled the world, lived so many lives, been to space, to the future, to the past, I have learned so much, been so delighted and amazed all while working in Master Control. I have more empathy, more understanding of people and history, and had my mind opened time and again by watching our programs. PBS provides programming that enriches everyone. We really need this in our commercial world.

As you head into retirement, what feels most satisfying to leave behind, and what excites you most about what's next – both for you and for KSPS PBS?

KSPS now has a new generation of young people working here. I hope they bring the same commitment to excellence and vision that we "old" people have tried to leave behind. I see so much talent in the people here, so I expect great things going forward. Myself, I will have the time to be creative, making costumes and art, more time to spend with the people I care about, and doing a bit of traveling. More time for ME.

From all of us at KSPS PBS, we'll miss you Barbara!
