ON THE COVER

SPOTLIGHT

AUDRA MCDONALD

at the London Palladium

Fri, May 17 at 9pm

GREAT PERFORMANCES brings you Four Fantastic Nights on Broadway in May. The other three performances are HAMLET (May 10), PURLIE VICTORIOUS (May 24), and RODGERS & HAMMERSTEIN 80th ANNIVERSARY (May 31).

Did you know that public media stations broadcast to over 1 million people every day? In the last year, 100 million people watched PBS’s local TV stations every month.

Celebrate these achievements with us on the second annual Public Media Giving Days (PMGD) on May 1 and 2.

Fueled by the combined efforts of PBS, NPR, local stations like SOPBS and other affiliated organizations, we’re coming together to advocate for public media and to give back. And we invite you to be a part of it.

On May 1, support SOPBS. If you’re already a supporter, please give an additional gift on this special day. By investing in SOPBS, you’re helping us continue our valuable work in Southern Oregon and Northern California. Join us in making a difference.

On May 2, share what #PublicMediaGives to you and your community. Post, call, text, message or simply chat with your friends, family and neighbors. Spread the word about what makes public media so powerful. Your personal testimonials will inspire others to follow your lead.

In Memoriam

Troy Ferguson

1969 – 2024

SOPBS Governing Board Member Troy Ferguson passed away unexpectedly on April 14th. In addition to volunteering with SOPBS, Troy was the Campaign/New Media Director for United Way of Jackson County. A former Marine and Congressional Staffer, Troy lived a life of service and was a friend to all he met. We mourn his passing and hold his family, friends, and colleagues in our hearts.

May 21 – 9pm

When Black neighborhoods in scores of American cities erupted in violence during the summer of 1967, President Lyndon Johnson appointed the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders — informally known as the Kerner Commission — to answer three questions: What happened? Why did it happen? And what could be done to prevent it from happening again? The final report, issued in March of 1968, would offer a shockingly unvarnished assessment of American race relations — a verdict so politically explosive that Johnson refused to acknowledge it publicly or thank the commissioners for their service.

Premieres Sun, May 5 at 9pm

What first strikes you as a potential thriller is actually a finely-observed relationship drama with a love story between two siblings at its core. Estranged adult sisters Becca and Rosaline are reunited when they learn their mother Mary’s body was found on the Isle of Man. Becca is pulled from a busy family life where she’s had little time to think about herself, while the more controlling and driven Rosaline must drop everything involved in her high-flying London career.

Arriving in a place they’ve never visited and with no idea why their mother was there, these polar opposites begin to unravel the long-held secrets of a woman they thought they knew, while keeping their own secrets from each other. Confined on the island and forced to face the life-changing consequences of their mum’s decisions, will sisters Becca and Rosaline get a chance to reframe their relationship or close the door on it for good?

Episode 1 - Sunday, May 5
Sisters Becca and Rosaline receive unimaginable news about their mother. They fly to the Isle of Man to learn more and are reunited after years of distance.

Episode 2 - Sunday, May 12
As Becca and Rosaline deal with the fallout from their mother’s death, new revelations emerge and the sisters cope in different and sometimes destructive ways.

Episode 3 - Sunday, May 19
Everything comes to a head as Richard and Jim arrive on the Isle of Man. Mary’s actions continue to have an impact on the entire family as they try to heal and reconnect.

This thoughtful documentary explores how the monumental task of keeping astronauts mentally stable in space is tested to the extreme in anticipation of NASA’s pending Mars mission and its required three-year absence from Earth.

In the next decade, NASA intends to send astronauts to Mars for the first time. To succeed, crew members must overcome unprecedented life threatening challenges. And while many of these hazards are physical, the most elusive are psychological. Throughout their three-year absence, crew members won’t be able to communicate with Earth in real time due to the immense distance. The psychological impact of this level of disconnectedness and isolation — both from mission control and loved ones — is impossible to predict, endangering the mission itself.

Directed to mitigate this threat is Dr. Al Holland, a NASA psychologist whose job is to keep astronauts mentally stable in space. We follow Holland, rookie astronauts Kayla Barron and Matthias Maurer, and former astronaut Cady Coleman, among others, as they grapple with the tension between their dream of reaching new frontiers and their basic human need to stay connected to home. This conflict transcends space travel: how do humans balance the quest for progress with a deep connection to history and each other?

“This is an intensive look at the challenges faced by astronauts as they prepare for liftoff and their journey in space, the impact it has on their loved ones and relationships, and the obstacles NASA’s team has to mitigate with possible solutions,” said Lois Vossen, INDEPENDENT LENS executive producer. “It’s a documentary about courage, intelligence, community, and trust for those brave enough and willing to reach new frontiers. But most importantly, it is about sacrifice.”

Whether you’re on social media or surfing the web, you’re sharing more personal data than you realize. That can pose a risk to your privacy — even your safety. But at the same time, big data sets could lead to huge advances in health, transportation, climate science, and more. Host Alok Patel leads a quest to understand what happens to all the data we’re shedding and explores the latest efforts to maximize benefits — without compromising personal privacy.

How big is the universe? If it began with the Big Bang, will it also have an end? Is there life beyond our planet? Questions like these inspired the launch of Voyager I in 1977 and have driven innovative space research and exploration ever since. Trace the ground-breaking discoveries that have transformed our picture of the universe, from an age when we knew of no planets beyond our solar system, to today, when we have evidence of thousands and estimate trillions more. And follow the teams trying to solve two of the biggest mysteries in cosmology today: What are dark matter and dark energy?

Season 3 of PBS’s popular cooking competition series features eight new home cooks, two new judges and one new location. Award-winning chef and Los Angeles restaurateur Tim Hollingsworth and Francis Lam, host of public radio’s THE SPLENDID TABLE, are new judges, joining returning host Alejandra Ramos and judge Tiffany Derry at a new filming location in Nashville, Tennessee.

The eight-episode series spotlights the amazing variety of tastes and traditions found across the country, and celebrates the roots of America’s diverse cuisine. Each week the judges will determine which home cook has the winning dish. In the final week, the top three will compete for a chance to win this year’s competition.

“Season 3 will introduce audiences to several new faces and provide some fun, unexpected twists,” said VPM Chief Content Officer Steve Humble. “With community, tradition and culinary diversity at the heart of the show, the new season remains faithful to these ideas while highlighting new cuisines and experiences.”

“We are thrilled for the return of THE GREAT AMERICAN RECIPE, featuring new faces and a fresh location for Season 3,” said Zara Frankel, Senior Director of Programming and Development, General Audience Programming at PBS. “Since its start, this friendly competition series has proven itself to be a delicious hit, resonating with audiences across the country. We are excited to welcome Tim and Francis to the family and look forward to meeting a whole new group of home cooks this season.”

Disco embodied the height of 1970s glamour: a dance floor culture born in New York City that went on to take over the world. But its success also obscured its wider significance. Inextricably bound up with the major liberation movements of the 1970s, disco speaks to some of the biggest issues of today: LGBTQ+ identity and female empowerment.

Rock the Boat - Tues, June 18
A look at the roots of disco — how it emerged from a basic desire for inclusion, visibility, and freedom among persecuted Black, gay, and minority ethnic communities of New York City. The film tells the remarkable story of how a global phenomenon began in the loft apartments and basement bars of New York City, where a new generation of DJs and musicians pioneered a distinct sound and a new way of spinning records.

Ain’t No Stoppin’ Us Now - Tues, June 25
Set against the backdrop of Black power and sexual liberation, disco conquers the mainstream. It turns Black women and gay men into superstars and icons. It is a world where the drag queen Sylvester was king, and Black women found a powerful new voice — one that fused Black Power with a call for sexual freedom. However, mainstream success took disco further and further from its roots of inclusivity and freedom, as straight, white men started to embrace and repackaged the sound.

Stayin’ Alive - Tues, July 2
The episode explores the wellspring of resentment from white, straight, male-dominated, rock-loving middle Americans, as they targeted disco for its hedonism, femininity, and queerness. A vocal “Disco Sucks” movement began to gain momentum. In addition, the hedonism and sexual liberation embodied by disco found itself stopped in its tracks by the AIDS crisis. Pushed out of the mainstream, the pioneers of disco retreated and regrouped.

Schedules subject to change
Fri, May 10 at 9pm
From The Public Theater’s Free Shakespeare in the Park at The Delacorte Theater in Central Park, experience this Shakespearean classic directed by Tony Award winner Kenny Leon featuring Tony Award nominee Ato Blankson-Wood in the title role and Solea Pfeiffer as Ophelia. Set in a desolate post-George Floyd world, this contemporary production is a present-day take on the Bard’s tale of family and betrayal.

AUDRA MCDONALD at the London Palladium
Fri, May 17 at 9pm
The winner of a record-breaking six Tony Awards as well as two Grammy awards and an Emmy, Audra McDonald performs a repertoire of classic Broadway songs, including I Am What I Am, I Could Have Danced All Night, Will He Like Me?, Summertime, and many more. Recorded from the London Palladium, musical director Andy Einhorn leads the 40-piece London Musical Theatre Orchestra.

RODGERS & HAMMERSTEIN 80th ANNIVERSARY
Premiering Fri, May 31 at 8pm
Beginning with their first collaboration on OKLAHOMA in 1943, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II revolutionized Broadway by integrating music and dance with well-crafted storylines. With a string of blockbusters including CAROUSEL, SOUTH PACIFIC, THE KING AND I, FLOWER DRUM SONG and THE SOUND OF MUSIC, the duo garnered 34 Tony Awards along with 15 Academy Awards for their film adaptations.

This comedic play starring Tony Award winner Leslie Odom, Jr. tells the story of a Black preacher’s scheme to reclaim his inheritance and win back his church from a plantation owner. Written by Kennedy Center honoree Ossie Davis, the play originally opened on Broadway in 1961 and featured Ossie Davis, Ruby Dee, Alan Alda, Godfrey Cambridge, Sorrell Booke and Beah Richards. PURLIE VICTORIOUS mirrors playwright Ossie Davis’ personal journey, growing up in racially-segregated Georgia, and challenging oppressive white authority in the South and beyond.
CREATE SHOW MARATHONS
