Dear Friends,

September brings a rich lineup of programming to PBS Charlotte, with thought-provoking documentaries, compelling stories, and familiar favorites for viewers of all ages. This month, we're exploring the lives and legacies of influential Americans, uncovering new perspectives on history, culture, and the world around us.

Hemingway, a three-part documentary by Ken Burns and Lynn Novick, explores the life, work, and legacy of Ernest Hemingway, revealing the brilliant, ambitious, charismatic, and complicated man behind the myth. Henry David Thoreau, author of Walden and Civil Disobedience, helped shape modern environmentalism and nonviolent resistance. Brilliant but flawed, his life and ideas continue to resonate as we consider how to live in harmony with nature and one another. Both Hemingway and Henry David Thoreau air Wednesday, September 2nd starting at 8 PM.

Fan favorite The Marlow Murder Club returns. Once again serving as official civilian advisors to DI Tanika Malik's investigative team, Judith, Becks, and Suzie use their unconventional crime-solving methods to take on a string of high-profile murders. Then, in the new series The Marble Hall Murders, worlds collide when Susan, hired to edit the latest Atticus Pünd book, finds herself a suspect in a murder case. Within the novel, Pünd is visiting the Isle of Corfu when he becomes embroiled in the suspicious death of a wealthy elderly woman. Season Three of The Marlow Murder Club and new series The Marble Hall Murders air Sunday, September 6th starting at 8 PM.

Explore the enduring fascination with Al Capone, the notorious gangster whose rise to celebrity status blurred the lines between the self-made American dream and ruthless criminality. Learn the truth behind his rise to power in Al Capone: Icon, followed by Al Capone's Bloody Business: American Stories, airing Wednesday, September 23rd starting at 9 PM.

We hope you'll join us throughout September for these engaging programs and more. Discover something new to watch, learn, and enjoy every day.
