As November brings the beauty of autumn, a season of reflection and gratitude, PBS Charlotte is pleased to share a lineup of compelling programs that explore our nation's history, celebrate the human experience, and inspire new perspectives.

Take an in-depth look at the life and career of John F. Kennedy, one of America's most beloved and mourned presidents. Explore the complex, enigmatic man behind the public image, his political journey, leadership, and enduring legacy. American Experience: JFK examines the life of a president whose story was forever changed by an assassin's bullet, cementing his place in American history and national memory. American Experience: JFK* airs Wednesday, November 4th starting at 8 PM.

American Experience: Victory in the Pacific examines the final year of World War II, from the American capture of the Mariana Islands in 1944 to Japan's surrender in August 1945. Through firsthand accounts from American and Japanese civilians and soldiers, the documentary explores the devastating battles of Okinawa, the decision to use atomic bombs, and the human cost of the war's final months. American Experience: Victory in the Pacific* airs Wednesday, November 11th at 8 PM.

Crime And Punishment In America, a new four-part, eight-hour documentary series directed by Lynn Novick and executive produced by Ken Burns and Sam Pollard, explores four centuries of American criminal justice. Narrated by Keith David, the series examines how law, power, race, and class have shaped the justice system, from pre-colonial America to modern mass incarceration. The series premieres on PBS November 16, 2026, and streams on PBS digital platforms for four weeks. Crime And Punishment In America* premieres on November 16th at 8 PM.
